

Prevent Child Abuse
Wisconsin

Other

A Parent's Guide to Keeping Kids Safe. (Based on the Protective Behaviors Program) Gordon, Sue and Dawson, Alan (Adelaide, Australia: Essence Prevention Network, 1996)

Resource Type: parent booklet, activities, poster, wall frieze, and stickers

*You may purchase this resource through the Protective Behaviors portion of our website.

Baby-Go-To-Sleep Series. Woodford, Terry. (Colorado Springs, CO: Therapy Innovations, Inc.).

Resource Type: heartbeat musical therapy CD 1

Baby-Go-To-Sleep Series. Woodford, Terry. (Colorado Springs, CO: Therapy Innovations, Inc.).

Resource Type: heartbeat music therapy CD 1&2

Corporal Punishment: What To Do Instead. Family Development Resources, Inc. (Park City, UT: 1990).

Resource Type: leader's guide, booklet, handout & video series

Make Time to Listen-Take Time to Talk About Bullying. U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

Resource Type: CD-ROM

Preventing Child Abuse: A Presentation Kit. Channing Bete Company, Inc., 2004.

Resource Type: CD-ROM, power-point slides & sample topical brochures

Quickthink Game. Georgia Council on Child Abuse, Inc. (Roswell, GA: 1990).

Resource Type: board game

This entertaining personal safety game helps children ages 5-10 make safe decisions when faced with potentially dangerous situations. Topics covered are relevant to the safety of all children and include fire, water, gun, street and Internet safety, as well as information on drugs, poison prevention, abduction, bullying, and child abuse.

You Don't Have to Let Your Baby Cry (Baby-Go-To-Sleep). Colorado Springs, CO: Therapy Innovations, Inc., 2003.

Resource Type: heartbeat music therapy CD & booklet

You Don't Have to Let Your Baby Cry-The Nurturing Way to Help Your Child Sleep. Colorado Springs, CO: Therapy Innovations, Inc., 2004.

Resource Type: heartbeat music therapy CD & booklet